With the number of inventions and labor saving devices on the market today it seems as though there would be little left to do for human beings.

Hiram Tucker has the hottest thing out in gadgets. Southern Bell probably doesn't like the idea of our calling it a gadget, and rightfully so, so we should call it a machine or device.

Anyway the thing answers the phone for Hiram when he is out. Not only that but it will take down your message, your name and phone number.

When you get Hiram's number, the machine answers in Hiram's voice.

The new school on South 13th street is well on the way to completion. We looked in the windows last Sunday and could see that most of the painting inside is done, the lighting fixtures in place, blackboards complete, tie down in the halls. The heating plant will be finished this week.

Finishing touches on the gutters are also being made.

Harwell Owens, the Contractor, is proud of this job, and he should be. It is a well constructed building with a nice appearance.

Hershel Corp. is the kind of fellow that the more you know him the better you like him.

A. B. Ellis got his store open yesterday on East Main.

Smallest has a loose tooth, finally.

Hats off to Mrs. Georgia Ward for teaching our six year old how to read and write. She did it in less than twelve weeks. How, we'll never know.

Anyway the six-year-old is as proud as a peacock over the accomplishment.

More folks taking over the job of directing annual drives. Alvin Stiles has the March of Dimes and Harvey Ellis and Frank Albert Stubblefield have the Red Cross.

Accidentally, they don't get any money out of directing the drives. Just some headaches and the knowledge that they are helping somebody else.

Did anybody else see the jonquil budding right after Christmas? We're afraid the frost last night got them all however.

Anyway the January Jasmine is budding and will be blooming soon in spite of the cold weather.

Locusts Wing Toward Morocco

CASABLANCA, North Africa, Jan. 7 (AP) — Clouds of locusts winged northward over Morocco today, devouring everything green in their path.

Casablanca authorities estimated that the flight of the locusts from the southern desert already had caused millions of dollars worth of damages.

Farmers appealed to the government to declare a state of "national disaster" which would enable them to recover part of their losses in France.

Some of the colonists predicted it will be years before their harvests are normal again.

Strong winds swept hordes of locusts into Fedala, six miles north of Casablanca, where 80 per cent of Morocco's fresh vegetables are marketed.

Officials reported from Fedala that the locusts had eaten $22,800,000 francs worth of lettuce, beans and tomatoes in less than a day.

More than 1,000 specially trained men joined French and Moroccan farmers in an effort to end the plague, and dust-planes and swarms of locusts.

A central organizing committee in the Moroccan capital of Rabat met to coordinate planes for the battle.

Ryan Milk Workers Vote In CIO

The United Packinghouse Workers of America CIO, was selected yesterday by employees of the Ryan Milk Company as their representative. The election was held yesterday at the milk plant and a vote of 15 in favor of the union was recorded.

It is understood that negotiations have been carried on for the past five weeks, however first news on the activity was received today.

Britain Tests Guided Missiles

LONDON (AP) — Britain, which scrapped its conventional anti-aircraft defenses in December, was reported today to be rushing secret preparations for critically important atomic and guided missiles tests in Australia this year.

The Ministry of Supply, which is responsible for the atom bomb program, confirmed that a high British official recently had returned from Australia where he "discussed future atomic weapons tests" expected to be carried out on the Woomera rocket range.

The official was J. M. Wilson, under-secretary in administrative charge of the Supply Ministry's Guided and Atomic Weapons Division.

During a secret month-long trip to Australia he inspected firing areas at the Woomera rocket range and elsewhere. Reports here said he also considered a remote site in south Australia as a possible new testing ground.

Heightened interest focused on Britain's new program because the North Atlantic powers recently switched their emphasis to atomic warfare and because of Britain's decision Dec. 1 to scrap conventional anti-aircraft units as outmoded.

British scientists thus far have exploded three atomic weapons, one off the Montebello Islands in October 1952, and two at Woomera. But Britain's practical atomic know-how is expected to take a great step forward now that the U.S. Congress has agreed to share with its allies the new tests will be the first in which Britain will benefit from the U.S. concession, and it was believed the weapons selected for testing would be a radical forward step.

Unconfirmed reports said there also would be emphasis on a new ground controlled guided missile which is to undergo its first Woomera trials this year.

Hammarskjold, Chou Talk On Airmen

Editors note: The following dispatch, by direct cable from Peking, is written by an editor Times of India, Bombay, on special assignment in Peking for United Press.

PEKING, Jan. 7 (AP) — United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and Premier Chou En-Lai conferred today on the fate of 11 American airmen jailed as "spies" and it was apparent both sides were getting down to cases with no beating about the bush.

Their second meeting in less than 24 hours lasted for three and half hours, and they scheduled another for 3 p.m., 2 a.m. EST.

The presence of two international law experts at the overnight meeting suggested the talks straightaway got to grips with the main point of contention between the two sides regarding the status of the Americans who were convicted by a Chinese military court.

The two experts were Prof. Humphrey Waldock of Great Britain, who accompanied Hammarskjold on his mission, and Prof. Chou Keng Sheng, adviser to the Chinese foreign ministry, and a well-known professor of international law.

It also is apparent that much of the talking so far has been done by Hammarskjold.

The two international law experts are believed to have taken part of the time to expound the legal aspects of the problem from their two viewpoints.

The tempo and character of the proceedings also point to the busyness of the time to expound the legal aspects of the problem from their two viewpoints.

The United States contention that the accused men were in military uniform and therefore, under international law, could not be held for spying and that China had committed a breach of the Korean armistice agreement by imprisoning American armed forces personnel on duty, has been contested by the Chinese.

The Chinese insist that the case is purely an internal matter and that it had been clearly established that the accused were engaged in spying activities on Chinese territory when they were seized.

The Chinese also insist that military uniforms could not protect them under international law.

Chinese circles say that the names of the imprisoned Americans were included by the American government in the list of American nationals in China to be exchanged for Chinese nationals in the United States during the negotiations at Geneva seven months ago.

This, according to these circles, proves that at that time the American government did not consider the accused as prisoners of war.

The United States position is that not only the imprisoned airmen but more than 500 other prisoners of the Korean War as well are being held illegally by the Chinese in violation of the Korean truce agreement for exchange of "all" war prisoners.

She'll Be First Woman to Set Foot at the North Pole

IN MARCH, Miss Peggy Keston, shown sitting on plane and in doorway, will become the first woman in history to set foot at the North Pole. She will have charge of the film production unit of an expedition whose aim is to perfect an instrument by which planes can gauge from the air the thickness of Arctic ice and thus its suitability for landings. The plane she sits on is the Burnelli Loadmaster, a craft with an extra wide, wing-like fuselage which enables it to take off and land in a 1,500-foot stretch. Shown with her in plane's door are Dr. Paul Byrd (left) and John F. Standwell-Fletcher, who will command the expedition. (International)

Mother Of Doctor Sam Is Suicide

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Richard A. Sheppard Sr., the mother of convicted wife-slayer Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard now in jail for the July 4 murder of his wife, was found dead today in the home of another of her sons.

Police said she committed suicide by shooting herself. They said she left a suicide note whose contents were not disclosed.

She was found at the home of Dr. Stephen A. Sheppard, Dr. Sam's brother.

Mrs. Sheppard left a suicide note, which was in possession of the Rocky River Police Department. Although contents of note were not released, it was reported she said: "I can't take it any more."

The home where she took her life is located in Rocky River, a Cleveland suburb adjacent to Bay Village, where on July 4 Dr. Sam bludgeoned his wife to death.

Mrs. Sheppard suffered a stroke last fall and had been hospitalized periodically since that time. Because of her condition, she never attended any sessions of the 10-week trial of her son, who was convicted Dec. 21 of second-degree murder for the slaying.

Mrs. Sheppard's only appearance in connection with the case occurred July 23, where she testified at a coroner's inquest into the death held by Dr. Samuel R. Gerstein. At that inquest she said she did not believe her son committed the crime, but she said she knew Dr. Sam and his pregnant wife, Marilyn, had on occasions discussed divorce.

The suicide was discovered during the noon hour, shortly after Dr. Sam's attorneys had given up their attempt to get him a new trial from the judge who sentenced him. They said they would carry their case instead to the court of appeals.

Dr. McElrath Addresses Rotarians

Dr. Hugh McElrath addressed the Murray Rotary Club yesterday at their regular meeting. Dr. McElrath gave a highly interesting talk on the history of dentistry.

He gave some of the history of dentistry in Murray, and listed the dentists in the city.

He told the Rotarians who the first dentist in Murray was and named the dentists who began practicing here.

Dr. McElrath told of the difficulty encountered by early dentists because of the lack of materials with which to work.

As more and better materials became available, more people enjoyed dentures, he said.

Visiting rotarians from Paris, Tennessee were Winifred Tamm, W. W. Carter, Andy Settles, and Dwight Norman. Jim Patton, Rotarian of Frankfort, was a visitor of the club. Ralph Schutte of Paducah was also a visiting Rotarian.

Nix Crawford had as his guest Walter Gardner of Paducah, who is with the St. Louis branch of Western Auto. M. O. Weather had as his guests Ellis Henson and Earl Sexton.

25 Gridders Are Killed In Last Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Football fatalities in 1954 took their largest toll in five years as 25 players and coaches died in various accidents, according to a survey conducted by Dr. Floyd B. Ender-wood of Los Angeles State College.

Dr. Enderwood, chairman of the Committee on Injuries and Fatality of the American Football

Coaches Association, reported to that group Tuesday night that the 1954 death total was almost 7 per cent higher than the average for the 33 years during which he has been keeping records. The yearly average for that period is 17.3 fatalities.

Two of the direct fatalities came in college football games, two in professional or semi-professional contests and three in unsupervised or sandlot play. Sixteen of the 19 direct fatalities resulted from blows to the head. The indirect deaths were caused incidentally by football such as heart attacks. One of these claimed Dave Sparks, Washington Redskins' lineman, last Dec. 5, after a game against the Cleveland Browns. Sparks' death was attributed to a coronary thrombosis.

In accordance with the report,
 Dr. Enderwood's committee made 16 suggestions for reducing injuries and deaths. Six of the seven recommendations dealt with physical examinations and medical matters.

Here are the committee's recommendations:
 1. That every football player be required to have a complete physical examination before the season starts and again in mid-season;
 2. That no boy with a history of heart abnormalities be allowed to play;

3. That every concussion be X-rayed immediately;

4. That every serious concussion be studied with the encephalo-gram;

5. That players suffering serious concussions be barred from further
 play;

6. That no insurance be allowed to play a football game unless a physician is on duty at the field;

Murray Needs This

When one is not in the drivers seat it is a easy matter to direct from the back seat. This is not what we propose to do, but only to offer a friendly suggestion to someone in Murray, whoever might be interested.

Back when Kentucky lake was first impounded and the waters flourished with largemouth eager to strike at anything put into the water—it was easy to sell baits and fishing equipment to the local citizens and to the visitors coming to Murray, to enjoy this phenomenal stroke that permitted everyone to catch, and in a few minutes, his limit of bass and other species. That time is gone and the nearest thing to it will be the impoundment of the waters of the Cumberland, and that can only last for a few years.

During the time we just mentioned there were several stores in Murray that catered to the needs of fishermen and one could find all the new modern gadgets called reels and odd looking and queer operating wands called rods. But that time is gone too, now. What Murray needs now is a larger variety of fishing equipment in the moderate price field.

We can buy a boat, a motor or a cane pole, plenty good, ques too, but where do we go when we want a good, but not too expensive rod and reel? Some have been going to Paducah, or Mayfield, or the Kenlake Boat dock which keeps well supplied. It would be nice to purchase these items from our own folks here in Murray, but there is no one who stocks sufficient lines to give all a well rounded chance for selection in the moderate price field.
 For instance, no merchant has a full line of spinning equipment which is the rage of sports fishermen all over North and South America. We have been told that you people of this area will not buy spinning outfits. That is what some said when the now familiar rod and reel were first introduced as being better than the cane pole.

After people become educated to the idea of spin fishing, like they had to be to use the rod and reel, it will not be long until most everyone has to have what it takes to catch fish, and that will be a spin outfit. Already the avid fishermen have found that with the spinning rod and reel they can catch three times as many fish as the man with the conventional type equipment. Take a look at what the people who fish below Kentucky Dam regularly use—four out of five will be spin fishermen.

This same wise merchant who could favor himself with more customers and cash by helping fishermen help themselves could also make a name for himself by establishing a headquarters for anglers as well as anglers. Stocking insulated boots, a good line of hunting clothes, etc. The results could be the same as it was for the headquarters for archery equipment here in Murray that was established in one season.

All this babbling might be useless, but we thought that since the big cripple season that attracts people from all over the U. S. is nearly upon us that we might put in a plug for a place for fishermen to buy what we need and tell our tall tales. We have some good men in business in Murray and sportsmen, you watch and see us get this store or part of one that we can say is an all around outdoor sports center.

 can repeat itself.

Mike broke his right leg when he fell from his bicycle at a village

 at the same school.
 Taken to the nearby Glen Falls
 Hospital, Mike felt right at home.
 He had the same hospital bed and the same nurse as he did after the Population In U.S. Over 163 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—The population of the United States, including members of the armed forces overseas, rose to 163,900,000 at the end of 1954, the statisticians estimate.

This represents a gain of 2,830, 000 during the year, and exceeded by more than 100,000 the previous high gain registered in 1951. It was the eighth year in succession the statisticians note, in which the population gain has been more than 2.5 millions. Contributing to the 1954 gain were the new high number of births, an all-time low death rate, and a moderate addition through immigration.

Every state except West Virginia shared in the 1954 population increase. The rate of population growth was highest along the Pacific Coast, 3.7 percent, or approximately double the national gain of 1.8 percent. Since April of 1950—California, alone has added more than 2.5 million inhabitants.
 Its population now numbers about

129 million, and is exceeded only by that of New York State.
 The Rocky Mountain States also experienced a vigorous population growth during the year. Arizona and Nevada have been the fastest growing states in the country, each having doubled its population since 1940.
 Florida's population increased by about 5.7 percent in 1954, and by more than 6 percent annually in the years immediately preceding.
 Increases well above the national average also occurred in the District of Columbia and in New Mexico, Delaware, Maryland, Utah,
 Connecticut, Michigan, Louisiana and Texas.

Refrigerator Hangs on Wall

Here's how refrigerators may look in the future, says American Builder magazine. Occupying only two-thirds the space of a conventional model of the same capacity, the wall-mounted refrigerator-freezer saves the housewife valuable floor space, which she can use for other kitchen equipment. Eye-level storage space is divided into an 8 cu. ft. fresh-food section and a 2 cu. ft. freezer section.
 The appliance is an experimental model.

Window Unit Goes In Fast

Construction workers put their backs to the job of lifting a sturdy, pre-assembled wood window wall into place on a new home. Installation of the nine-pane ponderosa pine unit took only a few minutes, a fraction of the time it would have required to construct the window at the house site. Modern ponderosa pine window units are entirely factory-built by precisely engineered methods. Frame, sash, glass, weatherstripping, and operating hardware—all are made to fit each other for best appearance, smooth functioning, and minimum air infiltration.

Egg Producers Call Meeting

FRANKFORT — Egg producers and county farm agents from over the State have been called to meet January 18 at the Kentucky Farm Bureau Building, St. Matthews, to discuss approved egg marketing facilities. It was announced today by M. J. Vinson, director of marketing in the State Department of Agriculture.

"We have approached an important place in our promotional work for an egg marketing cooperative," said Vinson. "We have already been assigned space in the new Louisville produce market and many poultry and egg dealers are interested in seeing it developed to its maximum potential."

The promotional committee includes members from Nelson Breckenridge, Henry, Meade, Taylor, Grayson, Owen, Shelby, Trimble and Marion Counties, according to Vinson.

Dortha Shackelford is the only one we have heard of who had to be hospitalized after that thrilling ball game between Mayfield and Concord.

Mrs. Emma Nance is undergoing treatment for a rare disease of a nerve in the face which causes excruciating pain, worse than a toothache. By the time her two weeks stay at the hospital is completed, she will be cured.

The marriage of the former Lurline Crowell to a Camp Campbell soldier is the only wedding we have heard of here.

Mrs. Mary Susan Bonner and daughters, Betty and Betty, enjoyed a visit to George Bonner's at Christmas. Christmas week when they accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lovins on their way to Georgia to visit Mr. and Mrs. Head, formerly of Murray.

Mrs. Evelyn McClure and Mrs. Ruffey Lovins tried to fortify a crowd of about thirty-two relatives with food enough to start the New Year off with lots of energy when they gave the last two dinners Saturday and Sunday.

But much as we enjoy the feasts, isn't it grand to be able to settle back down to just plain everyday living?

During all the Christmas festivity, it spoke of the only wedding we have heard of here.

Wood Cabinets 'Expand' Attic

"When finishing an 'expansion' attic, make the most of limited space by using built-in cabinets and chests of drawers under the sloping roof. Floor-to-ceiling groups of cabinets make good room-dividers.

Cabinets of ponderosa pine are available knocked-down for installation by the economy-minded do-it-yourselfer. Cabinets are also available fully assembled. A natural finish that preserves the warm pine grain of the cabinets is popular for children's rooms.

Modern Roof Protects Longfellow's Wayside Inn

Wayside Inn, Sudbury, Mass., dates from 1686, but the fine old colonial tavern appears ready for another 250 years. Its roof is protected with fire-resistant asphalt shingles, while the side walls and windows are kept painted and in good repair.

A century older than the United States, historic Wayside Inn in Sudbury, Mass., stands as a fine example of the sturdy colonial architecture of old New England. Built in 1686, only 60-odd years after the Mayflower landed, the famous tavern was immortalized by the poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in his "Tales of a Wayside Inn" in 1862. The pre-Revolutionary inn has seen plenty of American history, and has entertained famous guests, including Washington and Lafayette.

Wayside Inn is a large frame building with simple lines and numerous windows. It is two stories high, with additional rooms in the dormered attic. To protect the priceless antique from fire, fire-resistant asphalt shingles were chosen for the present-day roof. Although asphalt shingles are young compared with the inn itself, their quiet but colorful appearance and neat, regular pattern are in keeping with the architectural principles of the early colonists.
